

17 May 2018 | News

QUOTED. May 17, 2018. Renzo Marchini & Robert Fett.

by

The May 25 deadline for the EU's General Data Protection Regulation is rapidly approaching. See what attorneys Renzo Marchini and Robert Fett have to say about some of the considerations for medtech companies.

"Whether or not a medtech company is required to appoint a [data protection officer] will... very much depend on whether the company is only a manufacturer of medical devices (and does not process personal data), or whether it is processing data of patients as part of its service or to improve its products." – Renzo Marchini, partner, and Robert Fett, solicitor, Fieldfisher

- Find out more: GDPR: The Multiple Ways In Which Medtech Is Impacted, And Needs To Comply

Click here for a free trial of Medtech Insight