

19 Oct 2018 | News

QUOTED. Oct. 19, 2018. David Skibinski.

by

SnapMD CEO David Skibinski is very bullish about the central role telehealth will play in cardiology and health care more generally. See what he has to say here.

"This is going to be real – from tele-stroke to tele-ICUs to virtual hospitals; this is standardization or reduced variation of care, and we're going to turn into a gig economy ... patients want it, physicians want it, practices want it and payers will benefit from it." – David Skibinski, president and CEO, SnapMD

- Find out more: SnapMD Brings Virtual Cardiologist To Patients

Click here for a free trial of Medtech Insight