Medtech Insight sat down with conference organizers to talk about some of the overarching themes and issues discussed at the recent FDA/CMS Summit in Washington, DC.

Medtech Insight's Ferdous Al-Faruque sat down with Informa's Melissa Diamond to talk about key issues raised at this year's FDA/CMS Summit in Washington, DC, on Dec. 11. Some of the key takeaways was the continued interest in reimbursement pathways for medical device companies despite the lack of significant progress, industry's efforts to get the medical device tax repealed before the new Congress takes office, and what the political landscape is likely to look like in 2019.
