QUOTED. March 11, 2019. Scott Gottlieb.

by

Outgoing US FDA Commissioner Scott Gottlieb does not want the agency hierarchy shook up once he departs, preferring "to keep the FDA team intact." See what else he said here.

"In terms of a nominee, that's obviously a longer process and I don't think that they're at the point of making decisions around that yet. But I think in terms of who steps in to fill the role in an acting capacity there's some good names in the mix. I feel good about it and I feel good about the people who are going to stay behind." –Scott Gottlieb, commissioner, US FDA
