

08 Apr 2020 | Analysis

QUOTED. 8 April 2020. Carlos Nunez.

by

ResMed plans to double, even triple its production of ventilators, CPAP and BPAP machines to help fight the shortage of life-saving ventilators to treat COVID-19 patients. See what ResMed's chief medical officer, Carlos Nunez, said about the company's supply chain.

"Our biggest constraint is not our ability to manufacture them [ventilators], it's just the components we need to manufacture them." – Carlos Nunez, CMO, ResMed

- Find out more: COVID-19: ResMed Ramps Up CPAP, BPAP Manufacturing To Address Ventilator Shortage

Click here for a free trial of Medtech Insight