Sen. Patty Murray said she doesn't want more uncertainty about user fees during the COVID-19 pandemic and will move to get all the user fees renewed before they expire in September. See what Sen. Murray told Medtech Insight about it here.

"The last thing we need during this pandemic is more uncertainty, so I plan to move quickly to reauthorize all of the user fee programs that expire this year." – Sen. Patty Murray, D-WA, Chair, Senate Health, Energy, Labor and Pensions (HELP) Committee
